World's Fair via B. & M. R. R.

On Saturday, May 6, the Boston & Maine railroad will inaugurate a series of special trains of elegant Pullman vestibuled sleeping and dining cars between Boston and Chicago, in both directions. The problem of transportation to and from the exposition has assumed such proportions that no doubt is entertained it will severely tax the facilities of all transportation companies. Regular trains will inevitably be crowded, and it is now apparent that people desiring to go must take advantage of such facilities as are available at the earliest possible moment. With these conditions in mind the Boston & Maine railroad has made arrangements for the elegant special trains mentioned above, and patrons of the road will do well to avail themselves at once of the advantages offered. The number of passengers in each train will be limited, each passenger being entitled to a double berth in each direction. Meals will be served in the dining cars at regular hours, with as liberal a menu as will be found in the best hotels. Trains will arrive at and depart from the Raymond & Whitcomb special station in Chicago, only a few blocks distant from the exposition grounds, and in the immediate vicinity of many hotels. Each party will be cared for en route by an experienced special conductor. A reasonable rate will be named for tickets covering all the above accommodations.

If you receive nine-tenths of a gallon of paint, you should pay only nine-tenths of the gallon price. The United States standard gallon is one of the many good points about the Chilton Paint. You can rely on the correct measure always. And, as you get more quantity in the goods, also you get better quality. They are made only with pure linseed oil and the best turpentine driers, no ill-smelling benzine. They cover more surface—properly cover it, mind it—than any other paint known, and they are more durable, for the oil and pigments are mixed and ground together seven times by machinery. Musings on the Shawheen River.

As I stood on the old red bridge
O'er the crooked Shawheen river,
The sun was low on Indian Ridge
And lent a shadow to the river.

I strolled along the winding way,
Charmed with the beauties one can see;
I turned abruptly in the way
The gushing old Red Spring to see.

I wandered on the Chandler's Hill
And stood above the mill and stream.
The beauty of the woods so still
Gave added splendor to the scene.

A mirror ah indeed! lay there,
I thought how wonderfully grand
If I an artist then and there
Could have on canvas let it stand.

But on my mind the camera came,
A picture there indeed it left;
My thoughtful soul has had it framed,
So long as earthly life is kept.

'Twas Autumn and the sun was low,
I turned my steps toward home and rest;
The lengthening shadows sent a bow
From flying clouds down in the West.

The picture of that Autumn day
Within, I still am viewing;
I hang it up along the way
To cheer the day when I am grieving.

I went again a later day,
And all along the winding river,
The clouds were hanging low, they say
'Twas very stormy weather.

The river bound in ice and snow,
How cold the wind was blowing;
The day was different I know,
Piercing was the cold and snow.

So winding is the life of man
Oh how like the river running,
On, onward to the Ocean span
Where this life is ever ebbing.

Calm and peaceful indeed at times,
Sometimes like terrible weather,
Yet the days of calm and stormy times
Will soon end this life forever.

GEORGE FIDINGTON.

Roger's Fashion Notes.

The old chap came in Monday morning early with a long face and no friendly message, nor song of bird and brook could stir him. His favorite conductor on the electric had been transferred, in the all-round change to another line, and Roger's remarks were rather ill-natured about the old chief over at the office who had sent all the big fighting young men off and left us only the infants and grandfathers (of course, officially). I suggested the possible removal of the liquor sellers and their bars over the Methuen border and how the road, maybe, needed strong, plucky fellows to cope with the thirsty pilgrims that would be trooping in that direction. But when I invited him out to inspect the fine stock our tailors had laid in for the spring campaign, he went along with great cheerfulness. We found Bradley busy fitting a natty overcoat full of groups of funny little bastings, on a smiling lad; but he always has a kindly greeting for Republican Roger, and found time to show him the difference between an aristocratic four-in-hand tie that has to be tied, and the new, convenient "Princess" an airy sort of knotted thing with a bell skirt gore that hangs down over the shirt front, which ought not to be of cotton now, you know, but of silk. The designs on the dull electric blue striped cloth, that seems to be as durable and becoming a color as the standard navy blue, were very attractive. In Hannon's the mystery of the fore and aft crease in trousers legs was explained by a very courteous clerk. Roger thought the weekly pressing must be hard on the cloth although it was good for the trade. The white ties for evening, the new shades in the fashionable tan glove, the latest fads in broad brims, stiff crowns, punched crowns, etc., were patiently gone over; then away we darted to Dean's, where an entire new stock of fancies smiled up to Roger from under the familiar old show-case. Our "Willie" has got all the shades in ties that the masculine complexion will bear. I am thankful navy blue is going to be so popular. If fellows only knew how some ties spoiled their "effect"! The handkerchiefs here were most fascinating, and remarkable bargains in ready made suits lay in heaps everywhere. We had a minute's chat over the peculiar merit the new bell shaped, three button, cut-away coat possesses, being suited to fat and lean alike, while I was admiring my middle-aged countenance under a pretty soft brown felt Roger stuck on my head. He wanted me to start for Prospect Hill but I had to hurry away for a siege upon some enormous sleeves and waist ruffles that will shortly promenade beside these sensible masculine frocks. I do like a marked difference between a man and woman's gear, but if we only could get up our clothes and get into them with as little friction as a man suffers!

C. H. A.

Gov. Russell's Fast Day Proclamation.

Whereas our pious ancestors established the custom of setting apart by public authority a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer to God, that the whole people might thereon, in public and private, unite in such holy service and devotion to their Creator as the day, alike in its name and purpose, suggested:

And whereas, long-continued usage now requires the annual appointment of such a day, although it has ceased to be devoted generally to the purpose of its origin, but is appropriated and used as a holiday, for purposes at variance with its origin, its name and its solemn character:

And whereas this day is recognized in the statutes of the commonwealth and set apart as a holiday, and recent legislative action has decided that no change is to be made in regard to it; it therefore becomes my official duty now to appoint a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer. Accordingly, with the advice and consent of the council, I do hereby appoint Thursday, the sixth day of April next, as the day to be devoted to such purposes.

It is for the people of the commonwealth to determine whether this shall be observed in conformity with the high and low purposes for which it has been instituted and is appointed, or whether it shall be a formal fast by proclamation, to which the great body of the community of a Christian state gives neither heed, support nor service.

Better Roads.

Hon. Elihu B. Hayes, Mayor of Lynn, has drawn up and presented to the legislative committee on roads and bridges the following bill for the better care of roads:

An act to improve the Highways of the Commonwealth and to aid Towns in the Construction and Maintenance of Better Roads.

Upon the application of the County Commissioners of any county to the Governor and Council, there shall be furnished, at the expense of the Commonwealth, one or more steam rollers, portable stone crushers and such other road machines as the Governor and Council may deem necessary and best adapted to the making of good roads in the respective localities.

Such machines shall remain the property of the Commonwealth and be managed and maintained under the direction of the County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners shall engage competent engineers and skilled mechanics to operate said machines, who shall be paid from the county treasury such sums for each day's actual service as the County Commissioners may determine. One half the expense so incurred shall be repaid to the county by the Commonwealth.

The treasurer shall pay from the treasury of the Commonwealth such sums as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Prof. Allen on Phillips Brooks.

Professor A. V. G. Allen, in his paper on Phillips Brooks in the April Atlantic, thus speaks of his personal power as a preacher:

In an age when many had grown indifferent to churches, or could find in no church the food for which their souls were hungering; to whom the Bible had become unfamiliar, and the conventionalities of religious expression had lost their meaning,—who, somehow, amid the distractions of modern life, had fallen out of sympathy with historic Christianity; to those so shaken by doubt that they could no longer understand, or were impatient with, creeds, catechisms, or confessions,—to all these, and they are thousands whom no man can number, Phillips Brooks was the divine instrument for restoring faith toward God and love toward man. To such as these he was an institution in himself; in the old phrase, the Institution of the Christian Man. They did not need to have heard him often; it was enough to have heard him once, or even to have seen him, of whose existence they had become aware, as of some mysterious spiritual potency who could restore them to their true selves. To meet him on the street was a reminder of faith and hope, as if his presence held their world together: It was like a new fulfillment of the ancient prophecy, "A man shall be as a hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place; as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." Because such men come to us but rarely, in the course of long ages, institutions are essential; where the faith of the many shelters, educates, and strengthens the individual solitary heart.

When to Visit the World's Fair.

Having reached the national determination to visit the World's Fair, the individual is immediately beset with a doubt as to the best time of making the important expedition. If he is limited in time and pecuniary means, he realizes that he can make only one visit to Chicago this year; and, although he is well aware that the fair might be studied with profit for a month, at least, he has decided that he will be fortunate if he can reserve two weeks for the pleasure and duty of sight seeing. The question of the most advantageous time is perplexing not only to visitors but to the hospitable people of Chicago, who are making preparations to receive an unusual number of guests.

"I wish that my friends would decide at once," wrote an anxious Chicago woman to an Eastern relative. "They say that they are coming to Chicago, but are vague and undecided in regard to the date." With a slight thought of the need of prompt decision, the proposed visitors would not remain discourteous. It is absolutely necessary, in many cases, to bring plans of visiting Chicago to a definite issue.

From Chicago comes a suggestion upon the best time of seeing the exposition. Climatic conditions in the Lake City render visits during August undesirable. Many residents, recognizing the chances of discomforts during that month, have planned to close their houses for August and the latter part of July. Although many visitors will be obliged to choose the summer months on account of vacation limits and other circumstances, it is certainly unwise to visit the exposition in warm weather. "Come in May," is the loudest invitation to Chicago. May and June will be the best months for a visit, the majority of the recommendations announce. Although the fair may not be wholly in order at that time, there will be enough to repay a visit; more than sufficient for sightseeing without fatigue. Many people have visited the exposition already to avoid the crowd; but the visitors during the month of the opening will be equally fortunate in regard to the convenience and more happy in obtaining a satisfactory view. In May the exposition will have the freshness, the brightness and enthusiasm which may not be apparent later.—Boston Journal.

Catarrh, Heart Failure, Paralysis of the Throat

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Perfect Health."

"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to state a few facts: For several years I have suffered from catarrh and heart failure, getting so bad I could not work and could scarcely walk. I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat some time ago. My throat seemed closed and I could not swallow. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave me medicine, which I took according to directions, but it did not seem to do me any good. My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, telling me of Mr. Joseph C. Smith, who had been at death's door but was entirely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. After talking with Mr. Smith, I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken two bottles I felt very much better. I have continued taking it, and am now feeling excellent. I thank God, and Hood's Sarsaparilla and my wife for my restoration to perfect health." HARVEY REED, Laceyville, O.

Dirt!

Your watch needs cleaning and oiling once every eighteen months
 if you would preserve its timekeeping qualities. Consider: In that time the balance-wheel turns on its delicate axis 13,996,800 times; it does not "rest" at night, like ordinary machines,
 but keeps at its work unceasingly.
 You oil an engine, or a sewing-machine, or any other mechanical contrivance, daily or weekly;
 but that delicate instrument of precision—your watch—is allowed to go uncared for until it is clogged with dirt, and stops.
 The best oil becomes thick and dirty in time; in this condition
 it wears the pivots, and destroys that exactness of their fit in the jewel-holes which is necessary to a correct performance. . . Let me look at your watch—I will give you a conscientious opinion
 as to whether it needs attention.

 Abbott market, I am pleased to thank the people of Andover for the liberal patronage they have given me during my 22 years in the meat business in Andover. I shall aim to continue to merit a share of your patronage, and in addition to the lines of meats, etc. formerly carried in my cart, my customers will find at the market Vegetables and Canned goods in great variety.

FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1893.

Two or three years ago, in the city of New York, a singular case got into the courts. Mrs. Ann O'Delia dis de Bar was the defendant, and it was charged against her that, under the pretense of being a "medium" for spiritualistic communications, she had defrauded a wealthy old gentleman out of a large amount of money. She was convicted and sent to a penal institution, where she posed as a martyr and received much sympathy from certain misguided mortals, who thought she had been persecuted on account of her faith. But now the same adventuress is again in the toils of the law. At Geneva, Ill., on March 24, she was found guilty of larceny—just plain, simple stealing—and was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years. It is to be expected that, as there is no romance about her case in this instance, her former dupes will bottle up their sympathy and keep it for some more worthy object.

There is a great deal in a name sometimes—especially if it is attached to a note or a check. But one hardly looks to see nations so boyishly attached to distinctions as recently illustrated at Washington, London, Paris, Berlin
 and other great capitals. Heretofore the ministers from the United States to foreign courts have not been labeled "ambassadors," but by act of the last Congress they may be so designated hereafter. This raises them in the scale of etiquette to a much greater rank, and a corresponding change of title has been, or is to be, conferred on representatives of foreign governments to our country. Great is "red tape," even in the most enlightened and advanced communities.

A seizure of liquors, out of the ordinary course of such events, was made by the officers in Boston, a few days ago. It included wine, whiskey and brandy, which were stored in the private house of a Jew. The latter cen-tended that the liquors had been sent from New York for a religious use—the annual feast of the Passover—that they were "sacred" and therefore exempt from action at law. The officers scout this explanation, as they think that whiskey and brandy are hardly Passover beverages, whatever may be said of the wine. It is certain that there is no "dodge" to which illegal liquor-sellers will not resort, and no prevarication which they will not offer, when the police get hold of any "contraband" stock. The Passover story in this case looks like such a subterfuge, but the Judge let the defendant go free.

The Gypsy Moth department of the State Board of Agriculture has sent out a circular, to warn the public against the insect for whose destruction this branch has been specially organized. The document explains that the moth now "menaces the orchards, gardens, shade-trees, parks and woodlands of Massachusetts," that it is "one of the worst insect-pests of Europe," and that it "destroys the foliage of fruit, shade and forest trees and of bushes and vines, and feeds upon many vegetables; it is far more destructive than the tent-caterpillar or cankerworm, as its ravages cover the entire period of the summer." The committee of the State Board of Agriculture therefore urge upon all farmers and gardeners to be on a sharp lookout for this plague, since once established it is very difficult to extirpate it. A pamphlet, containing full directions for its identification and destruction, with a colored plate giving a picture of the moth, may be had free upon application to the secretary, E. H. Forbush,
 No. 13 Stanwood Hall, Malden.

Mention was made in this paper, last week, of the burning of Tremont Temple at Boston. A large Baptist congregation has been accustomed to worship

there, and Rev. Dr. G. C. Lorimer is the preacher in charge. Transferring the services temporarily to Music Hall,
 he last Sunday advocated the reconstruction of the Temple on a grander scale than ever before, and he insisted that the building should no longer be devoted to secular business of any sort.
 If these propositions should not be approved by his people, he intimated that his resignation would be tendered.
 The immense audience present were prompt to respond to his suggestions,
 and a new Tremont Temple for religious uses only seems to be assured.
 Here's hoping its fate won't be like that of Dr. Talmage's Tabernacle in Brooklyn, which is a veritable "white elephant" on the hands of its projectors. Clergymen are not often good financiers; perhaps Dr. Lorimer is an exception.

At Hotel Vendome, last Monday evening, there was a notable gathering of gentlemen prominent in the political and business world, to extend greetings to ex-Senator Henry L.
 Dawes on his return to private life.
 Many complimentary speeches were made, and a cash testimonial of about $13,000 was presented to him. Mr.
 Dawes made a modest address of thanks. His record is worthy of Massachusetts, and is as unsullied as that of any man who ever served our State.

On Thursday next, at Salt Lake City, Utah, the Mormons are to dedicate their celebrated Temple. It has been forty years in process of construction and is said to have cost $40,000,000.
 Such a stupendous waste of money for such a purpose is deplorable.

Mad in Spring.

"There's got to be mud in Spring"
 is a remark very often made to the editor in his agitation for better roads.
 As all of our readers may not find it convenient to go to Brookline, Everett, Newton or Chelsea to see that this remark is not so, we are pleased to call their attention to a bit of Andover road properly built from proper levels and grades. We refer to the piece of road in front of the town house on which there has not been mud a half-inch deep any time this spring. The remark that "there has got to be mud
 in Spring" is as absurd and old-fashioned idea as it would be to say there must be wind to produce power.

Have our citizens ever realized what it costs to keep three lights burning all night in the postoffice? We don't believe they have and moreover we don't believe the expense is necessary. Put them out at 12 o'clock and a $100 a year to make street crossings.

Church Building.

At the Society of Inquiry meeting in Bartlett Chapel Thursday night, Rev. G.
 A. Hood, one of the field secretaries of the Congregational Church Building Society, made a very interesting address.
 He first referred to the fact that he was formerly a student at the Seminary, in the class with Profs. Harris and Ryder.
 Then he spoke of the leading men in the denomination as have begun life in some small missionary church, many of them on the frontier. This led to his discussion of mission work; and he showed by statistics that very often the very continuance of a church's existence may depend on some help in getting an edifice. The Western towns are invaded by "shanties and Satan" at their outset. If a church can be furnished for the nucleus of believers, it may make all the difference between a godless and a religious community ten years later. The money is only loaned to the societies, to be returned as prosperity comes. Thus the same money can do the good work over and over again. He illustrated his instructive talk with several pictures, and answered numerous questions.

Have You Been Married Fifty Years?

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Gould celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary six years ago yesterday. Fifty-six years of wedded life is a long period and the friends of this old and honored couple couple have many and hearty congratulations for them. Aside from the wedding anniversary is the interesting fact that Mr. and Mrs. Gould have lived fifty years in the same place. There are so few couples living who have been married fifty years and over that we think an interesting list might be prepared of their names, and we should be glad to know from any source the names of all couples living in Andover who have been married fifty years or more.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve
 and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time,
 and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits.

 chapel, at which Mr. McCartney of the Senior class, Messrs. Bartlett and McKinley of the Middle class, and Mr. Long of ment next June. Mr. Gilman was selected

 American Interseminary Missionary Alliance at New Haven, Ct., and Mr. Harrington was appointed to open the discussion on the same occasion. A tax of 35 cents per member was levied, to defray expenses. Mr. Denison was chosen a member of the executive committee of the District Missionary Alliance for the ensuing year.

Daughter of a Revolutionary Soldier.

The Boston Journal makes mention of a fact well known to many Andover people that Mrs. Clarissa Abbott Poor of Lawrence, now in her ninetieth year, is the daughter of Caleb Abbott of Andover, who was a soldier from Andover in the revolutionary war. He served throughout the entire war, was at Bunker hill, where he had a brother killed,
 at Saratoga, and at the terrible winter camp at Valley Forge. Fifty years after the battle, Mr. Abbott, with some two hundred of his surviving comrades, attended and took part in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of Bunker Hill monument. It may also be said that of the 600 or 700 soldiers furnished by Andover for the revolution, Mrs. Poor is probably the only living child. She is the mother of E. P. Poor and Mrs. C. T.
 Briggs of Lawrence.

County Commissioners' Visit.

By invitation of the Board of Selectmen, County Commissioner Bishop, Longfellow and Danforth visited this town Thursday and looked over Main Street. It will be remembered that the last Selectmen's report recommended that the County Commissioners be called upon to relay out Main Street, which was laid out 66 feet wide in 1806, but which has been encroached upon by abutters and portions of it fenced in. The Commissioners came yesterday simply to look the ground over so that in the case
 they were called upon by the town to act in this matter they could do it with it a more intelligent understanding.

Obituary.

Jeremiah A., son of Jeremiah and Julia
 Driscoll, died at his home on Pearson St., Sunday, at the age of 18 years. The deceased was an honest, upright young man and well liked by those who knew him. He will be remembered as a former telegraph messenger boy. He is a brother of John Driscoll, who is employed at J. M. Bradley's. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St.
 Augustine's Church and interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

Maurice J. Lynch, son of John D. and Jane Lynch, died at his home on Morton Street, Sunday, of heart disease. He was almost 17 years old. He was quite a bright boy and for the last few years was engaged in peddling fruit and confectionery among the Phillips students. There he was familiarly known as "Joe." They will miss him greatly and to show their respect for him they took up a collection amounting to about $30 to aid in paying his funeral expenses. The funeral occurred on Tuesday morning and the remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

Post Office Receipts.

Below will be found a comparative statement by months of the receipts of the Post office for the past two years, beginning April 1, 1891. This has been kindly furnished us by Postmaster Mar-land with the idea that it might be of some particular interest at this time, when the question of free delivery is being agitated.

The law as we understand it is that offices shall do a business amounting to $10,000 in order to have a free delivery system. It will be seen by the statement that in 1891 it fell about $900 short. The past year, which would close to-day, will also without doubt fall several hundred dollars short. The receipts for the past month could not be given exactly, but have been put down the same as last,
 from which they will not vary much.

Whether an office doing so nearly the necessary amount of business, could be allowed the free delivery, is not known,
 but it seems as if these few hundred dollars could be made up if the people desire a free delivery. The statement is as follows:

	1891	1892
April, 1	$852.27	$855.00
May, 1	537.01	756.32
June, 1	739.58	747.93
July, 1	634.73	704.75
Aug. 1	592.77	551.79
Sept. 1	656.66	784.08
Oct. 1	1025.45	901.86
Nov. 1	684.99	769.54
Dec. 1	930.88	832.37
Jan. '93,	942.86	'92, 1114.81
Feb. 1	768.71	623.30
March, 1	736.09	738.09
	$9101.90	$9378.35

Fire Wednesday Morning.

About 10.30 o'clock Wednesday morning the fire department was called to the Dean building on Main Street, a fire having broken out in the rear room of Dean's gent's furnishing store. Fortunately, however, the services of the firemen were not needed, as J. W. Dean had succeeded after several minutes' hard work in extinguishing the blaze. The cause of the fire was probably an overheated stove used for heating pressing irons. Mr.
 Dean left the store for a short time on business, and when he returned there was quite a little blaze. The heat from the stove, although there was a tin between it and the wall, had set the partition on fire and it was rapidly creeping up. By knocking off some of the plastering and by a free use of water, he put it out. The upper rooms were thoroughly filled with smoke and the occupants of the building were somewhat frightened.
 The building is occupied by J. W. Dean's store, J. H. Soehren's barber shop, Mrs.
 Watson, dressmaker, and John Dwane and family. The damage was probably less than $100.

BALLARDVALE.

The repairs on the old schoolhouse are being pushed. John Perham is doing the work. A new floor is being laid upstairs and extensive and needed repairs in Greene & Woodlin's store.

Word was received from Alleghany, Wednesday night, that the doctors had given up all hopes that Mr. Kintz would recover. He has been confined to the house most of the time since Jan. 1st and lately typhoid pneumonia has set in. His friends here are still hoping for the best.

Mr. J. Skipp has left the employ of the Craighead & Kintz Co.

Frederick B. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Moore, was married to Miss Mary Haplands of Worcester in that city last Sunday the 26th inst. Rev. F. C. G. Schumm performed the ceremony. Miss Amelia Haplands acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Clarence Sweeney as groomsmen. The presents were numerous and valuable. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside in Worcester.

Do not forget the ball to be given by the J. P. Bradley engine Co. next Monday evening.

The Shawsheen Cycle Co. have resumed business for this season. They have a fine line to offer. There has been a change in the firm which does not affect it, however, financially or otherwise.

John S. Dearborn has been appointed a trustee officer for the remainder of the school year to take the place of the late Joseph Scott.

M. E. Clemons has, with the other stockholders, sold out all interests in the Stoneham and Wakefield Street R.R., and consequently he has retired from its management. He has now several important deals under advisement and something may be learned in regard to his movements in a few days.

The drama, "Among the Breakers," was presented by the Y. L. P. U. Wednesday evening to an audience which filled every seat and all the standing room besides that Bradley Hall could provide. The successes of this time-honored organization are too well known to need recapitulation here and it is said that this play was the best they have ever given. The drama is a very strong one in itself, and those taking the various parts made the best of them. C. N. Marland who has had sole charge of the affair is to be congratulated. There was nothing but discouragement at the outset, but patient rehearsing has brought out a wonderful amount of amateur talent. Mr. Marland as the Irish light-house assistant was successful as he always is, and Mr. Arthur Shattuck as a negro servant could not have bettered the part. W. E. Matthews and John Wood took very difficult parts and handled them splendidly. The individual, who, as a reporter, claimed to be the representative of the TOWNSMAN, carried out the idea of borrowing your correspondent's coat, but he took the part nicely and all will be forgiven if he returns the coat. The ladies in the cast were Miss Nellie Kniffen, who took the splendid part of the witch, Miss Millie Farrell, Miss Annie Shattuck, all of these parts being taken naturally. Mr. Greenwood, as the lover, took the part well. Mr. E. M. Fessenden was pianist. The financial results were good and everyone was pleased.

Abbott Village.

The Bowman estate has been purchased by Mr. Cole of the Tyer Rubber Factory, through Rogers' Real Estate Agency.

The Burns Club entertainment has been postponed until the 15th of April. Tickets may be had next week of the members of the committee.

John Mahoney is having an addition made to his house on Mineral Street.

W. Haddon and D. F. Bruce are expected to play with the Lawrence Association foot-ball team, Fast Day, against the Lynns.

Frye Village.

Arthur and Frank Carter of Wilmington are visiting at the home of William Fortis.

Joseph Milton has resigned the janitorship of the village school and Charles Craig has been appointed as the new janitor by the school committee. Mr. Milton intends to leave town for California.

James Kydd and family will occupy a tenement in the house in which James Campbell lives.

The Babine family are to be the occupants of the Doran house.

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs. VOICE OF LABOR Raised Against the Position Assumed by Employers.

Complicated State of Affairs at Boston Which May Involve Many Unions in the Building Trades.

BOSTON, March 28.—A gigantic strike, in fact the largest in the history of the building trades of this city, is imminent. The trouble is all over the strike of the plasterers' tenders, or the lockout, as the union claims, which occurred yesterday morning. In case the matter reaches a crisis this week it is claimed that 6000 members of the building trades' unions of this city will strike.

"The plasterers' tenders want $2.50 per day of eight hours' work and seven hours on Saturday," said Secretary O'Brien of Plasterers' Tenders' union. "Last Thursday we decided to make this demand, and we should have done so before, but for the fact that it would injure some of the small firms. The demand read that on Monday morning, March 27, every firm would be expected to grant the demand.

"Imagine our surprise then when on Saturday night the men were told that they need not come to work on Monday. They locked our members out and what can we do? The matter was brought up at a meeting of the Building Trades' council Sunday, and they voted to stand by us. So you see we are backed up by the entire building trades of Boston and vicinity. The men held a meeting yesterday and each was for holding out to the very end."

Clerk Supple of the state board of arbitration was admitted to the meeting, and he offered the services of the board to try and effect a settlement. The strikers were given an idea of the power vested in the state board, and the matter will again be placed before the men, but it is doubtful if they will agree to any such move.

Committees have been appointed and the pickets are all placed. Yesterday afternoon five firms conceded to the demands of the union.

In many of the shops the proprietors refuse to grant the demands and are endeavoring to fill the places of the locked-out men.

With Non-Union Men.

This is just where the trouble is going to be, for it is claimed that if these men are hired the other men on the job will not work. This is where the union working card is of great advantage. In order for a bricklayer, a stonemason, a carpenter, a plasterer or a lather to get work on a union job he must produce a union working card.

Nearly all the places where the men are locked out are union jobs, and it will be impossible to continue unless the plasterers' tenders return to work. The plasterers back up their helpers, and so these men cannot work without their helpers.

If these contractors hire non-union men, there is no alternative but for all union men in this city to strike.

Carriage Workers Gaining Ground.

Fully 800 men started to work this morning in 15 carriage and wagon factories under the system of nine hours with 10 hours' pay and an advance of 10 per cent in wages for the pieceworkers. Yesterday, the first of the nine-hour strike of the Carriage and Wagon Workers' union, was a red-letter day for the strikers, and they now feel confident that victory will perch upon their banner.

Never before in the history of the labor movement in Boston have so many firms capitulated on the first day of a strike of equal magnitude. The workmen have succeeded so far beyond their most sanguine hopes. They did not anticipate that any of the manufacturers would yield until the contest had lasted for a week at least, and it was not thought so large a number of non-union men would conclude to join in the strike.

A Horrible Butchery.

MARLBORO, Md., March 29.—The whole country is aroused over the horrible butchery of Frank M. Bowie, whose body was found in an old well. The arms of the body were outstretched as though warding off a blow. There was a long gash over the right eye, the chin was completely severed, the front bone was crushed in and another long gash under the severed chin exposed the tongue and teeth. The top of the head also had been crushed.

Many Public Requests.

HAVERHILL, Mass., March 29.—By the will of the late Hon. James H. Carleton it is understood that the Haverhill city hospital receives $25,000 and $10,000 is set aside to keep the Whittier homestead in repair. There are a number of other gifts for public and benevolent purposes. It is expected the estate will inventory between $50,000 and $500,000. The bulk of the estate is left to Mrs. Flint, sister of the deceased, during her lifetime.

Case of Senator Roach.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The case of Senator Roach of North Dakota was brought before the senate in the shape of a resolution offered by Senator Hoar, directing the committee on privileges and elections to investigate the allegations of criminal embezzlement and report the facts and what is the duty of the senate in relation thereto. The resolution went over for a day.

The Brakemen Stopped Work.

HAVERHILL, Mass., March 29.—A freight train on the Boston and Maine railroad, consisting of 17 cars, from Boston to Portland, was detained about three hours here yesterday by a "strike" of three brakemen. The men left the train because, as they said, it was short handed and they were unable to handle it. Three men were secured to take their places.

Halcyon Is Repentant.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., March 27.—Richard Haley was to have been taken to West Stockbridge today for examination for the murder of Thomas O'Brien, but a change in time has been made, as O'Brien's funeral is being held at West Stockbridge today. Haley says he is sorry he shot O'Brien. He is very nervous and fears he may have to face the same fate as Coy.

All After One Place.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—There are no less than 672 applications on file for appointment to the vacancy of paymaster in the army with the rank of major, to which Lieutenant Dupray, Secretary Elihu's military aid, was nominated by President Harrison, but not confirmed by the senate.

Colonel Elliot F. Shepard Dead.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Colonel Elliott F. Shepard, son-in-law of the late William H. Vanderbilt and reputed proprietor of The Mail and Express, died at his home, 2 West Fifty-second street, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

AFFAIRS IN HAWAII.

The Opposition to Annexation Said to Be Decreasing.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—The U. S. S. Alliance arrived from Honolulu. The condition in Hawaii is unchanged. The opposition to annexation is decreasing. The provisional government has the situation well in hand. The members of the government were disappointed at the news from Washington. Those in charge want only annexation. The queen remains secluded and refuses to see any one. It is reported that the Princess Kaiulani will marry Theophilus Davies' son. The Royalist leaders have organized the Hawaiian Patriotic League. Only natives can join this league, which will protest against annexation. Troops are "rilling constantly, and the provisional government is prepared for any emergency.

The engagement of Commander Whiting of the Alliance to Miss Etta Ah Fong, daughter of a wealthy Chinese merchant of Honolulu, is formally announced.

The steamer also brings the report that it is believed that Japan has designs upon the islands, owing to the employment of many Japanese subjects on the sugar plantations.

BOSTON CAPITAL IN TEXAS.

Slaughter Houses, Stock Yards and a Street Railroad Purchased.

BOSTON, March 28.—A $3,000,000 stock yard and slaughtering enterprise, with its head office in Boston, has been started at Fort Worth, Tex. The prime mover in the operation is G. W. Simpson, senior partner of Simpson, McIntyre & Co. of this city. The men interested have bought the entire property of the Fort Worth Packing company, slaughter houses, etc., to the value of $2,000,000, including the land and a street railway running from the city proper to the works at North Fort Worth.

They have bought 500 to 1000 acres on which new buildings will be erected and a belt line will be constructed from the city proper connecting with the 10 different railroads which center at Fort Worth. The concern will employ 400 men and will handle 1000 cattle and 2000 hogs a day, and the stockyards will accommodate over 3,000,000 cattle a year and a proportionate number of sheep and hogs. The new management will begin about May 1. A bank will also be established. The stock raisers of Texas as a body have indorsed the undertaking.

A CHECK FOR $10,000

Presented to Ex-Senator Dawes by His Friends in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, March 28.—Ex-Senator Henry L. Dawes was given a rousing reception at the Vendome last night in recognition of his conspicuous public service to his state, participated in by representative citizens throughout the state, comprising both Republicans and Democrats. Hon. William W. Crapo presided. During the evening an engrossed testimonial accompanied by a check for $10,000 was presented to Mr. Dawes, to which he feelingly responded. Other speeches included Hon. George M. Crocker, who made the presentation, Lieutenant Governor Wolcott and Congressman Moore. Numerous letters of congratulation were received.

Should Be Investigated.

HAVERHILL, Mass., March 28.—Twenty pupils in attendance at the School street school were overcome by nausea, and are now confined to their house. The building has been the subject of much discussion at sessions of the aldermen, and several attempts have been made to have it torn down and a new building erected, but the aldermen or school board have come to no agreement on the subject.

Now the Story Is Denied.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—It is said at the British legation that there is no truth in the report that Sir Julian Pauncefote has been notified that an attempt would be made to kill the Prince of Wales on his contemplated visit to this country. Mr. Herbert, secretary of the legation, said the statement was without foundation.

Canadians May Kick.

MONTREAL, March 29.—The American syndicate has secured the electric railway franchise from the city council of St. Louis de Mile End, but there is likely to be considerable litigation over the matter, as the Montreal Street Railway company claims to have legally received the franchise at a former meeting of the council.

Purse Strings Unloosed.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The friends of Ireland and home rule had a meeting at the Academy of Music last night. The meeting was called by the National Federation of America. The audience was enthusiastic. A collection resulted in raising between $14,000 and $15,000.

After a Jewelry Thief.

BOSTON, March 27.—Inspector Leggett of the central office left for Omaha yesterday afternoon with requisition papers for the return of Frank Adams, who is wanted here for the alleged larceny of jewelry valued at nearly $3000 from a Hanover street firm in December last.

Ball Jumper Caught.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., March 28.—Chief Nicholson returned from Troy with David Files, who stole a valuable coat from Eugene Backman of this city last year. Files was caught at Troy in January and jumped his bail while awaiting a requisition.

Boarders Had to Hustle.

FRANKLIN, Mass., March 27.—At Wrentham Centre fire destroyed the boarding-house connected with Daniel Brown's straw goods factory. The inmates had a narrow escape and lost most of their personal effects. Loss probably $4000.

Maverick Men Furnish Bail.

BOSTON, March 28.—Jonas H. French and Joseph W. Work, two of the defendants in the Maverick bank cases, have furnished bail in the United States circuit court. Work's bail was $25,000 and French's $10,000.

Pastor Chambers Exonerated.

EAST HAVEN, Mass., March 28.—The alleged charges against Rev. David Chambers were a tempest in a teapot. Investigation confirms the view that the charges were groundless, and he has been fully exonerated.

She Can't Be Beat.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—The cruiser New York returned to Cramp's shipyard yesterday, after having broken the record of all preliminary trials, and proving the fastest armored vessel in the world.

No Bail Allowed.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—The petition of Buer and Nold, the Pittsburgh anarchists who asked their release on bail pending argument for a new trial, was refused by the supreme court.

TELEGRAPH TAPPING

ADVICE AS TO A COMPARATIVELY MODERN INDUSTRY.

The King of Wire Tappers, a Chicago Man Who Has Fought the Board of Trade of That City, Gives a Few Points on Beating Telegraph Companies.

Speaking of schemes, there is one man in Chicago who has caused the board of trade more bother than all the other alleged electricians put together. His name is O. M. Stone, a past master in electrical matters, who has spent years in patient study of electricity, and whose fertile brain has evolved so many schemes to circumvent the powers that be that he has been called the king of wire tappers. Mr. Stone is a modest man. He looks like a granger, but any one who tries to sell him a gold brick will surely get worsted in the transaction. Believing that a disquisition on wire tapping would be incomplete without a few words on the subject from this patriarch of the profession, a representative from The Herald asked the electrician whether he thought wire tapping could be accomplished.

Mr. Stone could not vouch for it from personal experience, but from an electrical point of view he was decidedly of the opinion that he could. He thought, however, that it would require, in this city at least, a knowledge of electricity which not one in a hundred possesses. "In the past three years," observed Mr. Stone, "I suppose that upward of 100 different parties, each representing a coterie of amateur sports, operators and others, have approached me for information on this subject. And it has invariably been in regard to horse racing that they wanted enlightenment. Were I to mention the names of some of these visitors the racing department of a telegraph company would be horrified. Operators as a rule do not get princely salaries, nothing near what they should be paid, so that when a proposition is made to them whereby they may clean up a big stake in a day they naturally have an itching to give it a trial. But to all these young fellows who have been inclined to test their luck in this way I have seriously advised against making the attempt.

"A large proportion of those who do attempt to tap wires make miserable failures. And it is because of their gross ignorance. I will venture the assertion that 60 per cent of the operators in all large offices cannot set up and work a common set of telegraphic apparatus, taking the wires from the time they come into the office until they take the battery or go out again. Yet with a great part of this class the idea of wire tapping emanates. They think they know all about it, and when some of them come to see me and unfold their schemes I have to smile at their simplicity. They do not recognize the difference between an instrument of four ohms and one of 100 ohms, and upon the subject of galvanometers and Wheatstone bridges they are completely lost."

It was suggested to the veteran electrician that a recital of his experiences with the Chicago board of trade in getting quotations would be interesting, and he was asked if he could say how he received the markets during the time the quotations were withheld from the bucket shops.

"In a first place," said he, "the board of trade had detectives innumerable all hunting for 'taps' supposed to furnish me information. I fooled 'em dreadfully on that point, however. Now that the fight is all over I will say that I not only had no wire tapped, but had no necessity for tapping one. I had a better scheme than that."

"But didn't you ever lose your continuous quotations?"

"Never. They had a man who chopped everything in the shape of wires he could find, and occasionally he nipped other wires, but he never succeeded in tracing the source of my information. At one time he cut everything he could lay hands on and then firmly believed he had me in a corner. That made me hot. My office was then in the Traders' building, facing the board of trade rooms. The windows of the exchange floor were all soaped over, the directory foolishly believing I received quotations that way, and they thought they had me sure. Well, that morning, with my wire all cut as they supposed, as soon as the markets opened I seized a bar of soap and scored every eighth change on my window, giving in addition the buyer and seller sign. It dumfounded them. A big crowd stood below on the walk watching my quotations, and I never missed a turn. In spite of the cut wires, too, I had my customers supplied within half an hour after the board opened, and I was furnishing 17 bucket shops at the time."

"I suppose you had some funny experiences during the fight?"

"Well, yes. At one time I had a lot of old dead wires connected up that ran from anywhere to nowhere, similar to what is commonly known as a 'tree circuit'—that is to say, the 'main' wire had 'legs' scattered in all directions, each of which ran in some dark hole, chimney, vacant basement or the like, and there grounded. I then put a heavy battery on the main circuit and sent a full line of markets over it. There wasn't a single office on the wire, but the mysterious ends made the 'slents' believe it was a hot trail, and they would follow lead after lead, cutting each to pieces as soon as discovered. To further bother them I had my man trail them in turn and connect the wires again to keep up the illusion. It was three weeks before they found out I had fooled 'em again."

"Now that the board furnishes its own quotations, I suppose there is not so good a thing in the business for you, is there?"

Mr. Stone pulled in a reflective manner at his long beard. "Well," said he, "I have several other little schemes that serve to keep the pot boiling, and on the whole I cannot complain. My advice, however, to all those who think they have a bonanza in 'wire' tapping is to let it severely alone."—Chicago Herald.

All Three Were Left.

A rich joke leaked out this week on three boys. They are Pic Cross, Billy Byrnes and D. Webster McCarthy. A woman was at the bottom of it all. Not long ago she was visiting friends across the river. She was an attractive Kentucky girl and had much company. As she was here for a good time she treated all the boys graciously and of course expected attention in return. Each thought he was her favorite suitor, and as a consequence was lavish in his attention to her. All of the boys knew each other, but none knew of the other's predilection for the girl. When the time came for her to go home, she bade them adieu and said that she would go in a day or two.

Each of the boys asked the girl if he could call on her. She said yes and fixed the evening when she would be at her home in the interior of this state. Each went there thinking that he had a cinch on her. One of them rode in a sleeper, the second in a day coach and the third in the smoker. It was about midnight when they arrived at the place, and they went to bed at different hotels. The next morning three buggies were strung along the road en route to the girl's house. It was a snowy, cold day, and they all got left. The girl concluded to remain over a week longer and never thought that the boys would come. When they came to the house one by one and found that the girl had not yet got home, they swore. They all came home together. The trip cost them $20 each. They tried to keep the affair quiet, and they have succeeded so far.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Lifts an Elephant With His Teeth.

Milo, the famous athlete of ancient Greece, the man who was victor at both the Olympic and Pythian games for six different times in succession, and whose chief claim to fame rests upon the feat of running four miles with a 3-year-old ox upon his shoulders, would hide his head with shame could he visit London and witness the wonderful feats performed by Sullivan, the modern Samson. Sullivan is only 31 years of age and weighs but 168 pounds, yet he is a physical giant without an equal in the known world. He regularly goes through a routine of feats illustrative of his wonderful strength, the most remarkable being the actual lifting of an elephant with his teeth.

The elephant is not a Jumbo, to be sure; neither is he small, especially when you come to consider the size of the man who does the lifting and the usual dimensions and strength of human teeth. The elephant daily and nightly swung like a pendulum from Mr. Sullivan's teeth is known as "the infant" and weighs between 1,800 and 2,000 pounds. This remarkable strong man is probably the only one in the world who lifts more than 1,000 pounds with the teeth alone. Another favorite trick of his is that of lifting a barrel of water (56 pounds) with one finger.—St. Louis Republic.

The Use of Sudden Wealth.

The disposition toward mad extravagance so often seen in wealthy young men is not always the result of means to gratify overstrong desires, but the positive foolishness or mental incompetence, which, under the pressure of narrow means, would not only never have developed itself, but never have existed. "I have succeeded," said a very great statesman, "because I have never had enough to live on."

The silly marriages the old frequently make are in just the same way the result not of loss of judgment, but of a weakening of the resisting power of the will. The consequences of unexpected wealth are, however, as often fortunate as unfortunate, for they are the products of the natural character.

We have seen a man who inherited a fortune, very large for his wants, become during the remainder of his life almost or quite miserly, but that was only on a large scale the result of the impulse to save, which on a small one had been pronounced a "wise economy," aggravated a little, it may be, by a foible—timidity about spending, which is constantly noticeable also in men who were born rich.—London Spectator.

Going Out by Degrees.

Brignoli was so careful of his voice when he had to sing that he would not speak at all and was in the habit of writing his wishes on a piece of paper. During the last 30 years of his life he lived at the Everett House when not on the road. It took him at least three-quarters of an hour to go from his room to the sidewalk. He must get used to the changes very gradually. Leaving the room, he would pace up and down the hall for 10 or 15 minutes, until thoroughly "acclimatized," as he himself would say, and from there would go to the lobby to experience for 20 minutes a slightly lower degree of temperature.

At the end of half an hour he usually reached the vestibule, where he would pass another quarter, opening the outer door occasionally to get a taste of the fresh air. When thoroughly acclimatized here, he buttoned his greatcoat close about him and stepped out on the pavement.—New York Tribune.

Prodigality of Life in Ancient Egypt.

The reckless prodigality with which in ancient Egypt the upper classes squandered away the labor and lives of the people is perfectly startling. In this respect, as the monuments yet remaining abundantly prove, they stand alone and without a rival. We may form some idea of the almost incredible waste when we hear that 2,000 men were occupied for three years in carrying a single stone from Elephantine to Sais, that the canal of the Red sea alone cost the lives of 120,000 Egyptians, and that to build one of the pyramids required the labor of 800,000 men for 20 years.—London Tit-Bits.

A Parliamentary Joke.

Lord John Russell never made an unparliamentary joke, and that recorded by Mr. Torrens is no exception. A teller was absent on his honeymoon, at which some unkindly grumbled. "No, no!" said Sir John, "no man is bound to kiss and tell."—London Academy.

A VICTIM OF SPEAKING TUBES.

Bad Fate of a Man of Peace Who Is Situated Midway on a Vocal Route.

There is a man in this town whose work keeps him sitting at his desk all day. He thinks himself fortunately situated, for his employers are considerate in their requirements and liberal in the matter of pay, and his work is enjoyable. The others who work in the same room are busy men. They seldom speak, but when they do have something to say it is of a pleasant nature. His modest home has been all that heart could wish, so far as comfort and contentment go. All these things are sources of grateful satisfaction to him, for he is a man of middle age and is no longer consumed by youthful ambition to possess the unattainable. He is of a placid disposition and is, above everything else, a lover of peace. Thus situated he ought to be one of the happiest of men, but he is not. He is wasting away, the helpless victim of continuous and violent outbursts.

Close to his desk, inclosed by a thin wooden sheathing, are some tin speaking tubes that run from an upper story of the building to a lower story. These stories contain departments of the same business, and the tubes are in almost constant use. The tubes are cracked at about the altitude of this man's desk, and the wooden sheathing is split in places. The cracks in the tubes give a curious querulous sound to every voice that ascends or descends through them. A feud of long standing exists between the office boys and others who speak from the upper floor and those who speak from the lower story. A pleasant word never ascends or descends. All the harshness of inflection that accompanies the harsh words is strangely multiplied by the cracked condition of the resonant speaking tubes, and this man of naturally peaceable inclinations has to sit and hear it all.

Unfortunately his is a somewhat sensitive and sympathetic nature. It is impossible for him to remain undisturbed when this continuous war of words is going on through the speaking tubes. A provocative voice from above causes him to side with the floor far beneath him, and the reply that comes up grieves him, and he thinks that the upper floor has been assailed with unpardonable violence. Then there is a rattling exchange of warlike expressions in angry tones—made more angry to the ear by the cracked speaking tubes—and the man of peace groans and sighs for the quiet of a lodge in some vast wilderness. He has heard these savage exchanges so long and so continually that his conception as to the sound of the male human voice is like that which comes to his ears through these diabolical speaking tubes.

This has been going on year after year, and the feud shows no signs of abatement. Its effect on the helpless man of peace is deplorable. He feels constantly as if he were a party to a never ending quarrel. He goes out to his luncheon feeling like a man who has just been engaged in a riot, and he does not enjoy his food. He scolds his most obliging waiter without cause and gives him an increased tip by way of apology. When he goes home, he kisses his wife and children in a perfunctory way and is irritable at the dinner table. His wife says sadly, "My dear, you are working too hard." He is not working too hard, but he is ashamed to tell what ails him, for he knows that it would be difficult for even his considerate helpmeet to understand the effect of the continuous speaking tube strife on his nervous system. So he changes the subject and endeavors to make amends by his best behavior. His wife notices that his playfulness is forced and is a sorry imitation of the genuine article, and this is more alarming to her than his irritableness.—New York Sun.

The Charm of Dickens.

Perhaps the dominant charm of Dickens' novels lies in the secret of his ability to portray with skill the workings of an affectionate heart. The Cheeryble brothers send out warm sunny rays of loving kindness on every reader of "Nicholas Nickleby." Little Dorrit, God bless her memory, with her sweet, unselfish devotion to her complacent father and thoughtless brothers and sister and witless Maggie, wins the sympathy of every one. Dear old Pegotty, redeemed, a genuine lover; honest Ham and his father; poor little Em'ly, Agnes and Dora (the juxtaposition does not harm them); the pinched face and willing hands of the Marchioness; Ruth Pinch and her brother—and hosts of other faces shine out with genial warmth from the novelist's pages and become tender household memories.

Wherever such hearts are found, in poetry or fiction, in the pages of the novelist or in the busy streets, their power is recognized as unique, beneficent and enduring.—Harper's Bazar.

What a Little Girl Would Do.

A little girl I know is possessed of a peculiarly pugnacious and rebellious nature. One day, being in a neighbor's yard, she noticed some heavy wool socks hanging on the clothes line and inquired of a lady of the house to whom that unusual footgear belonged. The lady told her that they were the socks furnished by the United States government for the use of soldiers and belonged to her son, who had then just enlisted in the signal service. The child gazed at the uncouth objects with curling lip.

"Does he have to wear them?" she inquired.

"Yes," answered the lady, to keep up the fun, "he is obliged to wear them."

The child's eyes flashed fire.

"I wouldn't wear 'em!" she declared.

"I'd sass the government!"

And so she would.—Washington Star.

Insects Used For Medicine.

The cochineal insect is in some cases recognized as a medicine, and at one time had a reputation for wonderful virtues. Honey and wax, often used in pharmacy, are insect products, while galls, used in medicine for their astringent properties and the gallic and tannic acid they furnish, are also the work of insects.—London Tit-Bits.

Obituary.

JOSEPH A. RAND.

Mr. Joseph A. Rand, a well-known citizen, who has resided in town for about twenty-five years, died at his home Saturday afternoon. Much sympathy was felt for the bereaved family when the fact of his death became known. Deceased was several weeks ago very ill with pneumonia and from its effects he was unable to recover.

He was born in Lowell 42 years ago. When in good health he was employed in running the shearing machine at the North Andover Mills, where he had worked for about twenty years. He had been for about a year past janitor of the Odd Fellows' building, and in the discharge of this duty as in all others, was ever willing and faithful. He was a member of Wauwinet Lodge of Odd Fellows, of which he was a Past Grand. Mr. Rand leaves a widow and five children. He leaves three sisters: Mrs. Oliver Welch of New London, Wis., who reached her brother's home shortly after his death, Mrs. James Garland of Colorado, and Mrs. Chas. Kimball of Upton. One brother, George, left for the West several years ago, but it is not known whether he is now living or dead.

Prayers were offered at his late home on Water Street Tuesday afternoon. The body was then escorted by Odd Fellows, about sixty in number, under Mr. F. A. Coan, to the M. E. Church where a large number of friends of the family were gathered. The bearers were among the Past Grands of Wauwinet Lodge: Messrs. Enos S. Robinson, George L. Barker, James A. Ellison, E. E. Chesley, Robert Elliott, George A. Smith. Prayer was offered at the Church by Rev. T. C. Martin, who also spoke words in eulogy of the character of the deceased. A portion of the Odd Fellows' burial service was read by N. G. Wm. G. Roberts and Chaplain George A. Keniston, with responses by the Lodge. Singing was rendered by a choir of male voices: Messrs. T. P. Wentworth, Charles H. Butterworth, R. M. Walker, C. J. H. Shedd, John Somerville, Jr., L. C. Wentworth, Joseph Patchett, John D. Preston, Walter Stone.

A beautiful floral tribute in the form of three links, supported on a floral base and inscribed, "F. L. T." and "Brother, I. O. O. F.," was presented by the Wauwinet Lodge. At the conclusion of the services at the Church, the line of march was again formed and the cortege proceeded to Ridgewood Cemetery where the committal service of the order was pronounced.

The family of the deceased sincerely desire to thank those kind friends who with sympathy and kind attention have done much to relieve the burden of sorrow.

A Farewell Tea.

A farewell tea was given on Saturday last for a few of the many friends of Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Leavitt, at the residence of Mrs. S. E. Way, from four until six o'clock. It was entirely informal, Mrs. Way entertaining in her usual easy and graceful manner making every one feel perfectly at home. A delicious repast was served in the daintiest manner. Music was rendered during the afternoon, Mr. Frank D. Foster presiding at the piano. Mrs. Wm. Sprague, the well-known contralto, sang one of her charming songs and was in perfect voice; Mrs. G. E. Hathorn also sang very effectively. Mrs. Way may well be proud of her artistic home, for it presented a picture long to be remembered by all fortunate enough to be present. Graceful palms and ferns adorned the hall and staircase, and many were the compliments bestowed on the hostess for her exquisite taste in every detail. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Many expressed their regrets that Mr. Leavitt and family were so soon to leave town. Regrets were read from Rev. Mr. Wilson and wife, Rev. Geo. Walker and wife, Prof. Churchill and wife, Prof. David Kinley and many others. The time passed all too soon, each one being loth to leave the easy, artistic rooms where there was so much of interest to be seen. Mrs. Way having collected many things that are odd and beautiful during her many trips to Europe. All expressed their pleasure at being present.

Communication.

Editor of the Townsman:

There is no occasion for the personalities or for the lofty tone of outraged propriety which characterize Mr. McLean's recent letter with regard to my comment on the church situation at North Andover. The expression which I used, harsh as it was, was less severe than the one I at first wrote, and is fully borne out by the facts. The tone of your correspondent's report was amply justified by the circumstances. Therefore my expression must stand. The question is as to facts; if Mr. McLean is prepared to deny them, that would be a logical ground for controversy, although not a wise one for the parties concerned, nor conducive to the good of the church. Whether Mr. McLean's judgment would urge him to engage in such a controversy I do not know. But it would be wise "to go slow," for if he should engage in it he would need all the support he can derive from any quarter. Meantime "I commend him to a prudent husbandry of his resources." I for one have no wish to discuss the matter further, because no good can come of it. Public attention has been fixed on the situation by the opinions, deliberately and coolly given, of your correspondent and myself. That is all that is needed.

Moreover, the interests of the church are greater than those of any individual. It is therefore desirable, if possible, to bury the past. If those who have stood as stumbling blocks in the path of the Congregational Church in North Andover are ready now to further her progress, every true friend of the church will say "God speed," and I as heartily as any one. But it may not be either unjust or unkind to remark that they would inspire more confidence by showing fruits of repentance than by finding some one to cry for them that criticism of their course is unjust and unrighteous.

I have a great deal of sympathy for clergymen. With the noblest calling on earth they are continually compelled to work against the prejudices of some from whom they are entitled to expect loyal support. Broadly speaking, it is not true that a minister is entitled to the support of every church member, whatever that member's personal feelings may be, in any plan which the minister thinks will promote the good of the church? It seems so to me.

Respectfully yours,
DAVID KINLEY.

THE KIND THAT CURES

WILLIAM BURKE.
"It's The Kind That Cures"

DANA'S SARSAPARILLA CO.
GENTLEMEN—For the past eight years I have been troubled with Dyspepsia, painful headaches and a tired feeling constantly unable to work most of the time. I was induced to try DANA'S SARSAPARILLA, and after using three bottles I felt better than I had for five years. At times I could not eat for two or three days at a time—now I feel like a new man. My appetite is ravenous—I can eat anything. Headache all gone, and I can say I feel entirely cured. I can fully warrant it to do all it claims—and to any suffering, I recommend it. Try it and be convinced. "It's The Kind That Cures." Yours very truly, WM. BURKE.
